

New Cat First Weeks Survival Guide V1 — Action Checklist

GENERATED May 11, 2026 | Print this page and keep it somewhere visible

- ☐ You did everything right. You adopted a cat, set up the space, and brought them home — rea...
- ☐ What you're experiencing is normal. It's called the adjustment period, and it la...
- ☐ Your cat has been displaced from everything familiar — their territory, their smells, thei...
- ☐ Cats are crepuscular, meaning they're most active at dawn and dusk. Add the stress of...
- ☐ This behavior peaks around days 3 through 7 and typically begins resolving by day 10 to 14...
- ☐ Set up one room as your cat's sanctuary. Not the whole house — one room. A bedroom or...
- ☐ Placement: One diffuser in the sanctuary room, plugged in near the hiding spot. Replace ev...
- ☐ Visual stress is real for cats. Movement outside windows — birds, people, other cats — can...
- ☐ 9:30pm — Play session (15 minutes of active play: wand toy, laser pointer, anything that g...
- ☐ The play session exhausts the hunting instinct. The meal satisfies it. Digestion causes dr...
- ☐ Do not respond to them during this window.
- ☐ Do not get up. Do not turn on lights. Do not speak to them or acknowledge them. This is ha...

Companion to the full guide in your Lemon Squeezy library. Check off each item as you complete it.